How keeping your people healthy can help your business

Seasonal flu is one of the biggest causes of short-term illness and generally 15-20% of the population get flu each year. Flu is highly contagious, affects people of all ages and usually results in a period of time off work.

Vaccinations ahead of the flu season can help keep workers healthy and help stop the spread of flu at work and at home. That's a plus for them and for you.

How flu vaccinations can help

Flu vaccinations are a simple and cost-effective way to:

- Promote a healthy workplace, reducing the costs and disruption of unexpected sick leave
- Position you as a leader in corporate wellbeing with people's health interests at heart
- Improve employee engagement which makes for a happier workplace and increased productivity

Did you know?

Flu symptoms include sudden fever of 38-40C (100-104F), muscle aches, sweating, dry, chesty cough, feeling exhausted and needing to lie down. Recovery can take anything from 1-2 weeks.

Boots makes it easy for you

Starting from £6.49* each, our e-vouchers are an easy way for your people to get a free flu vaccination at a Boots store of their choice[†].
